

What is the Lawyers' Club of Philadelphia?

The Lawyers' Club of Philadelphia has been an institution in the legal community since 1892. The purpose of the Club is to promote cordial relations and good fellowship among members of the bench and bar.

The Lawyers' Club hosts three informal cocktail receptions a year for our distinguished judicial guests in a sparkling venue where bench and bar can socialize in a relaxed, informal setting. The Club invites Judges of the Federal Judiciary, trial and appellate, and Judges of the Pennsylvania Judiciary, trial and appellate. Additionally, the receptions present a special opportunity for attorneys to renew acquaintances and to network with other attorneys in various areas of practice.

The Lawyers' Club of Philadelphia

"The Lawyers Club is a perfect venue for fostering personal relationships among the distinguished leaders of the bar and the bench."

- President Judge Pamela P. Dembe

"The Lawyers' Club provided an invaluable opportunity to become acquainted with a cross-section of practitioners, and the leaders of the bench and bar, in a collegial setting; and remains an unequaled value."

- Administrative Judge D. Webster Keogh

The Aid Fund

A portion of each member's dues is placed in the Aid Fund which provides loans to members who are in dire need as a result of personal crisis. The Fund is administered with the greatest discretion and sensitivity. The Fund also makes an annual contribution to an organization that is providing assistance to legal professionals suffering from drug and alcohol addictions and mental health disorders.

The Aid Fund has rescued professional lives and the loans are usually re-paid in full. The Lawyers' Club is extremely proud of this helping hand that reaches across the spectrum of practitioners and is consistent with our dedication to promoting mutual respect and caring.
